

Signing into Google Accounts & The WIRE

The WIRE is a Google Form that students is only accessible by students if they are logged into their @learn.cssd.ab.ca Google accounts. These accounts share the same password as all other students accounts, such as D2L or PowerSchool, and by default are "000IDNUMBER".

Many students own Android phones, which means they already have a personal Google account, which ends in @gmail.com. This is a different account from their @learn.cssd.ab.ca account, though their phone and/or web browser may be already logged into it. Students with 2 Google accounts (@gmail.com AND @learn.cssd.ab.ca) need to understand how to swap back and forth between accounts on their phones/web-browsers.

Many other students use iPhones, which means their @learn.cssd.ab.ca Google account must be added to it.

In both cases (Android or iPhone), students need to understand how to log in to their @learn.cssd.ab.ca account on their web browser. Web browsers on mobile devices include Safari (on iPhone), Chrome or others on Android.

To log in:

- On their phone's web browser, go to www.google.com
- In the top right corner, they will either see a "Sign in" button, or a portrait picture/icon.
 - o If they see "Sign in", click it and enter their username@learn.cssd.ab.ca account credentials.
 - o If they see a portrait, they are already logged into a Google account. Click the portrait icon. They will see their existing @gmail.com account is signed in, and they can "Add account" to add their @learn.cssd.ab.ca account. Clicking the portrait allows them to swap between accounts.

Students, once signed in, will be able to click on the "WIRE" links on D2L and the school website.

If students get a "Access Denied" error, it is most likely because they aren't signed into their @learn.cssd.ab.ca account.
