WALK FOR WENJACK

Chanie Wenjack was a First Nations boy who ran away from his residential school and died trying to get home to his family. His story is told in the graphic novel Secret Path and the week from October 17 – 22 is known as Secret Path week. We are asked to do more than simply talk about reconciliation and this walk is our action. St. Augustine School students will be taking part in a “Walk for Wenjack” to demonstrate awareness of the residential school system and its legacy, solidarity with the survivors and support for the ongoing attempts at reconciliation.
